

SPRING TRAINSHOW

Little eyes were a glow watching Bob Johnson's vintage Lionel Layout. Definitely a great attraction for the kids.

Ken Petit answers a question at the Southern Indiana Railroad Layout. This picture also shows that the crowds were great the whole day.

The upper most photo shows off the farm that is located on the K & I layout. Pete Snyder's passenger train passes by the local Feed & Seed store. Picture courtesy of Jim Ward

Here is a picture of the fine quality bridge that is part of the Southern Indiana's layout. Picture courtesy of Jim Ward

April Trackside Contest

This month's location is 25.1 miles south of our March Contest at Mile Post 29.7. Name the Railroad Location of this site. Win a prize if your correct entry is drawn at the April Meeting.

Mark Hedge provided the correct answer for last month's location. Mark gave Wampum Ave, which was close enough to win. The railroad location is "FX" at the former community of Highland Park.

March's Contest Winner & Entries

Andre VanVooren took the March Contest honors, but he faced some tough competition.

Russ Weis' New York Central in HO

Busy Manhattan streets cross over the Grand Central Terminal Coach Yards, while freight cars are being prepared to be delivered to local industries. Below: Action in Albany. A local freight passes a northbound passenger train about to depart, while at the south end of the depot, a switcher makes up an Albany to New York City passenger train. Russ' layout will be open during the South Wind '07 Convention.

